

I am totally AGAINST "Broadband Over Power Line". As a engineer who has worked many years in EMI/EMC testing, I know that this is a terrible idea as far as interference to other services is concerned.

I cannot believe that it is even being considered.